5.2% of the total workforce.

In 2014, Canada’s energy sector directly and indirectly accounted for over 950,000 jobs or 5.2% of the total workforce.

86.3% of the energy sector.

In 2014, the energy sector directly and indirectly contributed 13.7% of Canada’s nominal GDP.

$22 billion is received annually by governments from the energy sector (2009-2013).

More than 73,000 km of pipelines are regulated by the National Energy Board throughout Canada.

In 2013, there were over 430 publicly traded Canadian energy companies with combined assets totalling $495 billion.

In 2014, Canada-U.S. total 2-way energy trade was over $170 billion.

In 2013, 79% of Canada’s electricity supply was generated from non-GHG emitting sources.

In 2013, greenhouse gas emissions per barrel of oil produced in the oil sands were 30% lower than they were in 1990.

Between 1990 and 2012, energy efficiency improved by 24.2%. In 2012, these improvements saved Canadians $37.4 billion and decreased GHG emission by 86.6 Mt.