Various types of agreements have proven to be successful in securing benefits for some Aboriginal communities and certainly for exploration and mining companies.

TYPES OF AGREEMENTS

LETTER OF INTENT - LI

Often seen as the first agreement and signals a desire to have further agreements if the mining company finds an economic deposit (may also refer to a letter of comfort).

EXPLORATION AGREEMENT - EA, COOPERATION AGREEMENT - CA, OR MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING - MOU

These agreements define principles of working together for mutual benefits, and are simple ways to create an understanding between a community and an exploration company.

IMPACT AND BENEFITS AGREEMENTS - IBA, PARTICIPATION AGREEMENT - PA, AND/OR SOCIO-ECONOMIC AGREEMENTS - SEA

These contractual agreements define the obligations of each party in areas such as employment, training, business opportunities, and funding arrangements, and vary by project or community. Socio-economic agreements are generally similar to IBAs, except as used sometimes by the Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) where they complement already negotiated IBAs. In this specific case, contrary to IBAs, the negotiation of a socio-economic agreement is mandatory and involves the GNWT.

SURFACE LEASE AGREEMENTS - SLA

Signed by mining companies operating in northern Saskatchewan and by the Government of Saskatchewan. These agreements ensure that the mining company has access to the land surface and include a component that commits the company and government to work together to increase employment and business opportunities for Northerners, including Northerners of Aboriginal descent.

Other - O

Any agreement not listed in any other category noted above.
